

► Financial Mastery II

Learn how to prepare your business budgets and cash flow forecasts.

Effectively managing the financial aspect of your business is critical for long-term success and growth. However many business owners procrastinate on preparing budgets and cash flow forecasts because they either don't know how or find the task too daunting.

Successful business owners know and understand their numbers so that they can make smart and timely decisions. During this one-day, hands-on workshop we will teach you how to easily prepare a budget and cash flow forecast for your business. This is a must attend workshop for those who want to improve profits and proactively manage their cash flow.

You will learn how to develop your business budget and cash flow projection, what you should be monitoring and how to create a financial management system. You will also increase your financial literacy and develop your skills so that you can improve the financial performance of your business as well as develop your own personal budget and investment strategy.

“ You have to know accounting.
